

GERMANS MOWED DOWN BY FRENCH

Teutons Attack in Mass Formation, But Fail to Gain Ground.

London, Sept. 20.—The Bavarian crown prince's army north of the Somme today made a desperate attempt to drive back the French from the Peronne Combes highway, and thus break the iron ring that has been steadily closing in on these two important bases. The French war of office, in its midnight communique, reports that the attempt failed completely, the French holding their positions everywhere intact.

The British last night suddenly shifted the fighting to the northern end of their line, capturing 200 yards of German trenches.

On the Somme Sir Douglas Haig's troops beat off all Teuton counterattacks.

The Germans again attacked French positions in the Champagne, east of Souain hill, but were repulsed. A similar action in the Vosges, north-east of Altkirch, also broke down under the French curtain of fire.

At Verdun the crown prince's infantry wrested from the French a small portion of a trench on the western slope of Dead Man Hill west of the Meuse.

Attack in Mass Formation.

The outstanding event of the day's fighting was the German effort north of the Somme. The battle centered around Bouchavesnes, about half way between Comblès and Peronne. From 9 o'clock in the morning until nightfall, Teuton infantry was hurled against General Foch's lines in a series of fierce counterattacks in mass formation. They were met by a hail of bullets and shells from the French machine guns and artillery.

That the Bavarian throne heir meant to make a supreme effort to re-establish the communication between the vital bases was indicated by the terrific drumfire which preceded each infantry attack and by the large contingents thrown into battle.

The assaults were launched on the three and a half mile front between the Priez farm and the Bois L'Abbe in one attack at noon the Germans succeeded "after a number of bloody checks," in the words of the night communique, in taking a foothold in the northwestern part of Bouchavesnes village, only to be driven out again at the point of the bayonet. Fifty prisoners, including some officers, were made by the French in this action. Four preceding "waves" had been literally mowed down by the French fire, the Teutons retiring in disorder, according to the French war office. The losses suffered by them are described as "important."

Heavy rains continued to hamper operations in Picardy today. The British during the first twenty-four hours took more than 100 prisoners. German artillery was active throughout the day south of the Ancre, foreshadowing counterattacks on this part of the Somme line.

How to Judge a Woman by Her Hair

There are always the well-known and semi-humorous methods, such as saying brunettes are quick-tempered or blondes are keener in their mental activity. But there is real common sense in just nothing whether the hair is well kept to judge a woman's neatness, or in look at her style of arranging her hair, to decide whether or not she has good taste. If you are one of the few who try to make the most of your hair, remember that it is not advisable to wash the hair with any cleanser made for all purposes, but always use some shampooing. You can enjoy the very best by getting some canthrox from your druggist and dissolving a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water when you use your shampoo is all ready. After its use the hair dries rapidly with uniform color. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its lustre and softness will also delight you, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth.—Advertisement.

BRITISH AVIATOR BRINGS DOWN ZEPPELIN NEAR LONDON

Wreckage of Zeppelin brought down by Lieut. Leete Robinson twelve miles from London.

The encounter between the great Zeppelin and the aeroplane took place at Cuffley, a place about twelve miles from London. Lieut. Leete Robinson in his aircraft boldly assailed the invader with machine gun and five bombs and sent it crashing to the earth, leaving behind it a tail of comet-like smoke and flame. It hit the earth, a mass of ribbons and tangled wreckage. The crew of the airship were buried with full military honors. Lieutenant Robinson received the V. C. for his daring exploit.

"I congratulate you most warmly on your nomination by the Democrats of New York for the United States senate. A united body of Progressive voters will be behind you."

The president spent virtually the entire day preparing for his campaign and attending to official business. After a conference between the president and Vance McCormick, chairman of the Democratic national committee, executive office attaches began communicating with various non-partisan organizations which have invited Mr. Wilson to speak before them. Mr. Wilson plans two trips next week, one to Baltimore Monday to deliver an address and another to Princeton Tuesday to vote in the New Jersey Democratic primaries.

IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS

You have swollen feet and hands! Stiff aches joints! Sharp-shooting, rheumatic pains torture you. You have aching back, pain in the lower abdomen, difficulty when urinating! Look out! These are danger signals. Trouble is with your kidneys. Uric acid poisoning, in one form or another, has set in. It may lead to dropsy or fatal Bright's disease if not checked. Get some GOLD MEDAL Haerlem Oil Capsules immediately. They are an old preparation, used all over the world for centuries, combining natural healing oil and herbs, well-known to physicians and used by thousands in their daily practice. The Capsules are not an experimental, make-shift "patent medicine," or "salt," whose effect is only temporary. But when you go to the druggist, insist on getting the genuine, original Haerlem Oil in Capsule. WHAT DYSPEPTICS SHOULD EAT

A PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE.

"Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble are, nine times out of ten, due to acidity; therefore, stomach sufferers should, whenever possible, avoid eating food that is acid in its nature, or which by chemical action in the stomach develops acidity. Unfortunately, such a rule eliminates most foods which are pleasant to the taste as well as those which are rich in blood, flesh and nerve building properties. This is the reason why dyspeptics and stomach sufferers are usually so thin, emaciated and lacking in that vital energy which can only come from a well fed body."

For the benefit of those sufferers who have been obliged to exclude from their diet all starchy, sweet or fatty food, and are trying to keep up a miserable existence on gluten products, I would suggest that you should try a meal of any food or foods which you may like, in moderate amount, taking immediately afterwards a teaspoonful of bisulphated magnesia in a little hot or cold water. This will neutralize any acid which may be present, or which may be formed, and instead of the usual feeling of uneasiness and fullness, you will find that your food agrees with you perfectly.

I know of nothing better than plain bisulphated magnesia as a food corrective and antacid. It has no direct action on the stomach, but by neutralizing the acidity of the food contents, and thus removing the source of the acid irritation which inflames the delicate stomach lining, it does more than could possibly be done by any drug or medicine.

As a physician, I believe in the use of medicine whenever necessary, but I must admit that I cannot see the sense of dosing an inflamed and irritated stomach with drugs instead of getting rid of the acid—the cause of all the trouble. Get a little bisulphated magnesia from your druggist, eat what you want at your next meal, take some of the bisulphated magnesia as directed above, and see if I'm not right!—Advertisement.

DEMOCRATS OF BOXELDER COUNTY

Brigham City, Sept. 20.—The Boxelder Democrats met today in convention and selected a full county ticket.

Most of the nominees came to the convention unannounced as to their intentions of entering the race for the various offices to be filled. The convention was marked with enthusiasm and perhaps a larger attendance than has characterized a Democratic county convention for a long time. Aside from the usual business and procedure the convention was without incident.

Addresses were given by Newton Farr, Democratic organizer of Salt Lake, and brief remarks were made by O. C. Dalby, county chairman; J. E. Baird and James M. White of Willard. John E. Baird was selected temporary chairman at the morning session and J. W. Phillips, secretary. At the afternoon session James M. White was chosen permanent chairman.

All the precincts of the county were well represented with the exception of the extreme western part of the county, which was not represented at all.

The ticket named follows:

Wynn L. Eddy, representative to the legislature, Brigham City; A. R. Capener, commissioner, four-year term, Garland, Brigham City; J. E. Baird, commissioner, two-year term, Brigham City; O. C. Dalby, county attorney, Brigham City; Milton J. Thorn, county clerk, Perry; John J. Ward, county treasurer, Willard; Willard H. Anderson, county assessor, Bear River City; Mrs. Olga Standing, county recorder, Brigham City; Job Wellings, sheriff, Fielding; Kenneth C. Wright, surveyor, Brigham City.

Simon Bamberger and Major Richard W. Young opened the Democratic campaign in Boxelder county tonight when they addressed an enthusiastic gathering at the Academy of Music. The speakers talked on the issues of the campaign in the state and nation and enumerated the various accomplishments of the national administration.

Mr. Bamberger will remain here tonight and go to Hooper tomorrow. On Friday he is scheduled to talk at Huntsville, and at Morgan Saturday.

HUGHES ATTACKS THE DEMOCRATS

Finds That the Present Administration Blundered in Every Law Enacted.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 20.—Charles Evans Hughes in his speech here tonight again outlined his attitude toward the protection of American rights as follows:

"I propose that we shall protect and enforce American rights on land and sea. I propose that we shall protect and enforce American rights on land and sea without fear and unflinchingly with respect to American lives, American property and American commerce. We have no untested policy, no secret understandings, no intrigues. We stand four-square to the world, representing the United States and its interests, and its interests alone, first, last and all the time."

Mr. Hughes' reference to American rights was contained in a speech in which he made reply, one by one, to what he termed Democratic claims for having aided business, and outlined the Republican program. In so doing, he dealt chiefly with subjects discussed in President Wilson's speech of acceptance.

Shipping Bill a Menace.

The shipping bill was characterized as "a menace, the sooner removed the better." The Underwood tariff he called a measure that "must be undone if we are to have a sure basis of prosperity in this country." He reiterated that the anti-trust law, instead of being clarified by definition, had been made "more uncertain."

"I must say," he declared, referring to the Democratic party, "after having read several of their statutes, that they are the most wonderful phrase-makers on record."

The federal reserve act, the nominee said, far from being a Democratic measure, pure and simple, was taken in great part from material supplied by a Republican committee and a draft of the Republican bill.

Saved by Aldrich Act.

"Whatever salvation from panic we have had thus far is due to the enlightened foresight of the Republican party," Mr. Hughes said in connection with the extension of the Aldrich act during the threatened financial depression in the early days of the European war.

The child labor law, Mr. Hughes said, failed to protect hundreds of thousands of children at work in various states under Democratic administration.

"Call the roll of states," he said, "and you will find that the states where children are emancipated from too early labor are Republican states and that the states where child labor still exists are under Democratic control."

The federal workmen's compensation law, the nominee reiterated, should be made to protect others than the federal employees under its scope. It should extend to all persons engaged in pursuits of interstate commerce.

Reiterates Principles.

In outlining Republican policies Mr. Hughes said he stood for protection of American rights, a protective tariff, for the principle of arbitration of industrial disputes, the protection of labor, national resources and "the national treasury," for efficiency in government and for "a government according to the processes of reasoning."

In his reference to the shipping bill and the Underwood tariff, Mr. Hughes said in part:

"There are two acts which are stated to be aids to business, which on the other hand were direct blows to American business. I will mention the last of these first—the shipping bill, which is a menace to American industry."

"It unjustifiably introduces the government into the ship building business. It at this time, may be practicable in operation because of the extraordinary conditions which preclude the purchase of ships at normal prices or the building of ships in yards already overworked. But it remains a menace to the shipping industry and the sooner that 'aid to business' is removed as a menace of that great industry of the country, the better it will be for the shipping interests."

TYPES OWN SUICIDE NOTICE IN OFFICE

Los Angeles, Sept. 20.—Harry Howland, a newspaper reporter, wrote the story of his proposed suicide, it developed today, and then carried out his own plan, excepting that he took poison instead of shooting himself as he had said in his story that he would.

Howland took poison at his desk in a local newspaper office here last night.

The copy was found after his death. Howland had grieved over the death of his wife and child in Kansas City a year ago.

In his story Howland detailed how, after writing the story of his death by suicide, he had shot himself outside the newspaper office. He wrote: "The weapon he used to end his life was borrowed from — on the pretext that Howland had been assigned on a story in a remote part of the city where frequent holdups have been committed."

A blank space to be filled in with the time of the suicide was left in the copy. The story closed with "thirty."

ROMANIANS ARE NOW IN RETREAT

Driven Back Across the South-eastern Alps by the Austrian Forces.

London, Sept. 20.—Austro-Hungarian forces have thrown the Rumanian army back across the southeastern Alps into Rumanian territory.

An official statement issued by the Vienna war office late tonight says: "The Rumanians southeast of Hatzeg have been completely driven off. Petrovsky and the Szurduk pass are again in our possession."

It was Szurduk pass through which one of the Rumanian invading columns crossed into Transylvania almost simultaneously with the Rumanian declaration of war. It lies about fifty miles southwest of Hermannstadt. The Austro-Hungarian army, aided by German contingents, appears to have begun a great offensive with the view to clearing the whole of Transylvania of Rumanian and Russian troops. A similar offensive has been initiated in the Carpathians.

In the Carpathians, however, the Russians are pushing their campaign "with the greatest tenacity," the Vienna statement declares, admitting that they gained "local advantages in the Luzzina region." At other points the Russian onslaughts were repulsed. South of Lippicadolina, the report asserts, the Russians are trying vainly to stem the Teuton offensive.

The Vienna statement concedes that the Russians this morning penetrated the Teuton front at some points of the southern part of the line in Russia held by Archduke Charles Francis Joseph's armies. It is added, however, that "speedy counterattacks compelled the Russians to yield." Fierce Russian attacks yesterday against General von der Marwitz' lines carried out in massed formation were beaten off, the statement says.

Violent fighting is still in progress on the Najarovka river, northwest of Hatzeg. Bertha declared officially today that the battle is proceeding favorably for the Teutons.

VILLA OUTBREAK UPSETS PLANS

New London, Conn., Sept. 20.—Until an official account of the reported attack on Chihuahua by Villa forces is received by the Mexican-American joint commission, its members will not enter into any agreement on a plan for the maintenance of peace on the border, it was learned tonight.

The American commissioners conferred at length late today with Counselor Polk of the state department. Prior to the conference, the American representatives spread before the Mexican commissioners a mass of documentary evidence relating to conditions in Mexico.

The admission of the information in possession of the Americans was somewhat in the nature of rebuttal to information that had been offered by the Mexicans. The reports placed before the commission by the Mexican representatives have been of a character calculated to depict a rapidly recovering country and to offset stories that credited the government authorities in various localities with lack of control and efficiency.

The American representatives have not questioned the reports submitted by the Mexicans, but much of the data they exhibited today was contrary to that offered by the Mexicans.

The details of the evidence submitted by the American commissioners were not revealed, but it is known that they covered a wide range and dealt with social, economic and military conditions. Much of it related to health conditions and indicated the prevalence at various places of typhus fever and other diseases. The evidence also included statements dealing with some of the decrees issued from time to time relative to taxes and the conduct of business.

As yet no direct request or demand has been made by the Mexican representatives for the withdrawal of Americans tacitly agreeing that the question of their withdrawal is incident to the adoption of a recommendation of some broader plan for meeting the border problems.

MILLION PEOPLE MADE HOMELESS

Washington, Sept. 20.—Nearly a million people have been made homeless in China by one of the greatest floods in 50 years. Reports to the state department today telling of the disaster said an appeal for foreign aid would be made.

The state department issued the following:

"The department has received from the American consul at Nanking dispatches giving detailed information regarding recent extensive floods along the Hwai river in Anhui province. The inundation is equal to, if not greater, than the one of 1910. An area of some 2,000 square miles was submerged under from three to 15 feet of water, and from July 11 to July 21 the waters reached such a height as to submerge all except very high ground in an area estimated at 7,000 square miles.

"The flood extended throughout eight districts in northern Anhui. There are ten cities of considerable size in these eight districts with a total population estimated at from 800,000 to 1,000,000 people. The total population of the flooded region is approximately 2,500,000 people."

"While it is thought that comparatively few lives were lost, crops and personal property have been destroyed and there are thousands of destitute people, nearly all of whom are now objects of charity. The supply of foodstuffs on hand will be inadequate to feed the people and practically all of the autumn crops in the eight districts have been entirely destroyed. Appeals for relief have come in from the various affected districts."

CROP CONDITIONS ARE FAVORABLE

Washington, Sept. 20.—Another week of generally favorable weather has carried forward rapidly grain harvesting and threshing over most of the country, the weather bureau's weekly crop bulletin says today, although rain early last week caused some delay and damaged grain still in the shock in western Minnesota. Fall plowing still is going forward satisfactorily except in some of the central and northern states where the ground still is too dry.

Prospect for considerable damage during the week to the late corn in Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Montana and Oregon. In most of the middle and southern states good crops are expected but corn is developing slowly in New England and Michigan.

Except in North and South Carolina where the weather was too cool, good progress was made in picking and ginning cotton. Besides of the hot and dry summer white potatoes are only fair to poor in many sections and almost a failure in Ohio. Reports on tobacco are favorable generally.
